Introduction

The Committee on Statistics, at its sixth session in November 1985, decided that ESCAP should produce a statistical pocketbook containing principal series and key indicators for the region based on data already available within the secretariat. Asia–Pacific in Figures is the outcome of that decision.

Asia–Pacific in Figures is intended for those who need to know at a glance the basic features and trends in the region. The explanatory notes provided should facilitate an understanding of the data, which cover many important socio–economic aspects of development.

The data presented in this edition of Asia–Pacific in Figures refer to 56 countries or areas. Wherever possible, official government data have been used. Where official government figures are not available, the tables draw on data from the United Nations and other international sources.

On 1 July 1997, Hong Kong became Hong Kong, China. Mention of "Hong Kong" in the text refers to a date prior to 1 July 1997.

The designations employed and the presentation of the material in this publication do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of the secretariat of the United Nations concerning the legal status of any country, territory, city or area, or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers or boundaries.

Unless otherwise stated, "tons" related to metric tons, and "billion" signifies 1,000 million.

The following symbols, where they are used, indicate:

. not applicable

. . . not available

– nil or negligible

Substantial breaks in the homogeneity of a series are indicated by a vertical line.

Explanatory notes

POPULATION STATISTICS

Total population. Unless otherwise specified, total population shown are midyear estimates (i.e., 30 June or 1 July) or are averages of year–end estimates, provided by national statistical offices. As far as possible, the population statistics presented are de facto (present–in–area).

Age distribution. Data were supplied by the Population Division of the Department for Economic and Social Affairs and the rates were computed in the ESCAP Statistics Division.

Rural residence. Classification of population by rural residence is provided by each country or area.

Annual crude rates of live births and deaths. Data refer to the number of live births and deaths per 1,000 population which occurred or were registered during the period indicated.

Rate of increase. The rate of increase is the annual percentage change in population size.

Density. Data refer to the number of persons in the total population per square kilometre of the total area.

SOCIAL STATISTICS

Infant mortality rate. The number of deaths under 1 year of age per 1,000 live births which occurred during the same period. Data exclude foetal deaths.

Expectation of life at birth. Defined as the average number of years expected to be lived by a newly–born baby, assuming a fixed schedule of age–specific mortality rates.

Adult literacy rate. Literacy rate refers to the percentage of adult population (age 15 years and over) who are able to read and write. Semi–literate persons who can read but not write are not included.

Primary school enrolment ratio. Data refer to gross enrolment ratio, which is the total enrolment of all ages divided by the population of the specific age groups, corresponding to the age group of primary school.

Population per physician. Physicians are persons who are graduates of a medical school or faculty, actually working in the country in any medical field.

Population per hospital bed. As a general rule, hospital establishments comprise the following: general and specialized hospitals and other medical establishments with beds, such as medical centres, bedded dispensaries etc., leprosaria, rehabilitation and physiotherapy centres, establishments for alcoholics, medical convalescence homes. Old people's homes and establishments for custodial and preventive care only are excluded.

Telephones in use. Data refer to the number of telephones per 1,000 population. Telephones refer to the number of telephone lines connecting a customer's equipment to the public switched-telephone network(PSTN) and which have a dedicated port on a telephone exchange.

Television and radio receivers. Many countries report the number of radio licences issued rather than the number of receivers used. This has led to a certain under-enumeration of the number of receivers for those countries or areas where one licence covers the possession of several receivers. The same case applies to the figures supplied for the number of television receivers.

Daily calorie and protein supplies. Data refer to energy equivalent of per capita net food supplies available in the country per day. Food supplies comprise domestic production, imports less exports and changes in stocks. Net supplies exclude animal feed, seeds, quantities used in food processing and losses in distribution. The food requirement has been estimated on the basis of physiological needs for normal activity and health, taking into consideration environmental temperature, body weights, and age and sex distribution of the population in the various countries or ares, and allowing for wastes at the household level.

EMPLOYMENT

Population employed. The "employed" comprises all persons above a specified age who, during the specified period of either one day or one week, were working.

Population employed in agriculture. The agricultural sector comprises agriculture, forestry, hunting and fishing.

Female labour force. The number of women in the labour force as a percentage of the total labour force.

ENERGY

Commercial primary energy production. Included in the production of commercial primary energy for solids are hard coal, lignite, peat and oil shale; liquids are comprised of crude petroleum and natural gas liquids; gas comprises natural gas; and electricity is comprised of primary electricity generation from hydro, nuclear, geothermal, wind, tide, wave and solar sources.

Commercial energy consumption. Data refer to the aggregate final consumption of coal and other solid fuels, petroleum products, gases and electricity, expressed in kilograms per capita of coal equivalent.

NATIONAL ACCOUNTS

Gross domestic product and per capita gross domestic product. Unless otherwise indicated, total and per capita gross domestic product are in purchasers' values. Gross domestic product in purchasers' values is defined as (a) the difference between the gross output value of resident producers minus the value of their intermediate consumption plus duties, (b) the sum of domestic factor incomes (i.e., compensation of employees and operating surplus), indirect taxes net of subsidies and consumption of fixed capital, (c) the sum of government and private consumption expenditure, gross capital formation in fixed assets and stocks and exports minus imports of goods and services.

EXTERNAL TRADE

Exports and imports of goods and services. Exports and imports of goods and services include broadly the equivalent of general exports and imports of merchandise as defined in external trade statistics, plus exports and imports of services and direct purchases abroad made by resident households and by the government on current account. Transfers of migrants' household and personal effects and gifts between households are also included. Exports are valued f.o.b., whereas imports are valued c.i.f., unless otherwise specified.

CENTRAL GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURE BY FUNCTION

Expenditure on various government functions expressed as a percentage of total government expenditure indicates public demand and government priorities attached to these functions. Components may not add to 100 per cent owing to rounding or unallocable adjustments.

FINANCE

Domestic saving. Defined as the difference between current receipts and current disbursements.

External debt. Data refer to total debt stocks. Defined as the sum of public and publicly guaranteed long–term debt, private nonguaranteed long–term debt, the use of IMF credit, and short–term debt.

Foreign exchange rate. Data refer to the units of national currency required to purchase one US dollar and pertain to the period average. For some countries or areas, mid–point rates (i.e., the average of buying and selling rates) are used.

PRODUCTION

Agricultural production index. The index of agricultural production covers all crops and livestock products of a country. The index numbers of food production cover commodities considered edible and containing nutrients. Thus coffee and tea, although edible, are excluded because they have no known nutritional value.

Industrial production index. Data refer generally to mining, manufacturing and electricity, gas and water, and do not include construction unless otherwise indicated.

PRICES

Consumer price index numbers show the movement of the cost of selected goods and services that are considered representative of the consumption habits of the country as a whole. When the index refers to a city, it is so indicated.

Wholesale price index numbers. Measure changes in the level of commodity prices at a non–retail stage of distribution. Data usually represent a mixture of producer and wholesaler prices for domestic goods. The index may cover the prices of goods imported in quantity for the domestic market.

LAND USE

Total land area. Data refer to total area, excluding area under inland water bodies. Inland water bodies generally include major rivers and lakes.

Arable land and land under permanent crops. Data refer to land under temporary crops (double–cropped areas are counted only once), temporary meadows for mowing and pasture, land under market and kitchen gardens (including those cultivated under grass) and land temporarily fallow or lying idle, land cultivated with crops that occupy the land for long periods and do not need to be replanted after each harvest, land under shrubs, fruit trees, nut trees and vines. Excluded is land under trees grown for fuelwood or timber.

Irrigated area relates to areas purposely provided with water, including land flooded by river water for crop production or pasture improvement, whether this area is irrigated several times or only once during the year stated.

Forests and woodland. Data refer to land under natural or planted stands of trees, whether productive or not, and includes land from which forests have been cleared but which will be reforested in the foreseeable future.

TRANSPORT

Passenger–kilometres. Figures for railways relating to passenger–kilometres include all passengers except military, government and railway personnel when carried without revenue. Figures for civil aviation relate to revenue scheduled traffic of the airline(s) registered in the country for total operations (international and domestic). Revenue scheduled traffic is traffic for which remuneration is received and which is carried on flights performed according to a published time–table.

Passenger vehicles in use. Passenger cars refer to vehicles seating not more than nine persons (including the driver), including taxis, jeeps and station wagons.

TOURISM

The number of tourists. Data refer to persons travelling for pleasure, health, business, meetings, study (including students and young persons staying abroad) etc., and stopping for a period of 24 hours or more in a country (country of arrival other than that in which they usually reside). Data on tourist receipts are expressed in millions of US dollars.

SOCIO-ECONOMIC PROFILE OF SAARC COUNTRIES

Statistical Profiles No. 1 (ST/ESCAP/1537)

This publication provides detailed and up-to-date information relating to the socio-economic situation in member countries of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC). The first part of the report deals with the evolution and objectives of SAARC and gives an overview of the sub-region in terms of its geography, history, demography, economy and human resources development. The second part consists of individual profiles on the seven SAARC member countries, each profile covering such aspects as physical geography, demographic patterns, the economy, and quality of life.

COUNTRY PROFILES ON WOMEN

Sixteen country profiles on the situation of women and men will be published. The profiles will present available statistical data, information and analysis concerning women in the family, at work, and in public life. The profiles are intended to highlight the areas where action is needed, and to raise the consciousness of the readers about issues concerning women and men. These profiles are a major component of the activities under the project on improving statistics on women in the ESCAP region, funded by the Government of the Netherlands. Eight profiles have already been issued for: Bangladesh, Nepal, Pakistan, Philippines, Samoa, Solomon Islands, Thailand and Vanuatu. The other eight, under printing and preparation processes, are for China, Fiji, India, Indonesia, Islamic Republic of Iran, Japan, Republic of Korea and Sri Lanka.
